

Roach Injury Law and Covid-19

According to the St. Louis County stay at home order our law firm is considered an "essential business" and remains open 24/7 to our clients and future clients who need our help.

If you want to discuss your case or retain our firm it is not necessary to leave the safety of your home. We offer phone and video counseling for all our clients and prospective clients.

For many years our law firm has been using DocuSign for electronic signing of contracts, cloud-based case management software, intake email programs, internet phone system and after hours call service with a team of specialists.

To keep our clients and prospective clients updated, here are some important points about our business operations during the COVID-19 mandatory social distancing/staying at home orders:

We are still open – Although we have temporarily unmanned our physical office in St. Louis, all of our staff are working from home. We have access to all our client documents, and we have scanners, computers, and everything we need in our home offices.

We can handle your case or answer your questions without personally meeting. We do phone and video consultations and utilize docusign and other electronic software so you can sign legal documents in the safety of your home.

We are still working hard to get compensation for our clients' injuries. We are currently accepting new cases and have settled several cases over the last few weeks.

We remain committed to our core mission: We are dedicated to obtaining the best possible compensation for our clients and providing the highest level of customer service.

We honor Stay at Home Orders and social distancing requirements. We follow all guidelines and precautions. We are doing our part to reduce the spread of COVID-19 and have fully implemented a policy to encourage all of our clients to avoid unnecessary physical interactions.
